University Press Scholarship Online

What is University Press Scholarship Online?

- University Press Scholarship Online brings the same cutting-edge search and discovery functionality that has marked the success of Oxford Scholarship Online to a greatly expanded content base.

- UPSO delivers content from university presses around the world, including the University of California Press, Hong Kong University Press, and Stanford University Press, plus Oxford University Press content via Oxford Scholarship Online.

- UPSO allow users to deep search the full range of monograph scholarship with over 13,500 titles across over 28 subject areas, from the world’s top university presses.

- Content is provided in XML, which allows for deep tagging and results in a better search experience.

- Comprehensive structure helping users to identify content to suit their research needs with abstracts and key words freely available at book and chapter level.

- An invaluable teaching resource – with DOIs at book and chapter level for linking from online class packs and reading lists with remote access for all your students.

- Regularly updated with newly published works.
Navigating from the Home Page

The Home Page allows the user to navigate to content quickly and intuitively. Search and Browse options are available on every page, as well as access to an Advanced Search option for more direct searching.

1. Use the Browse subject menu to view all titles in a subject area.
2. Set Subject Specializations to limit your search to specific subject area(s).
3. Subscribe to our RSS feed to deliver the latest UPSO news straight to your desktop.
Browsing by subject
The Browse menu is available on every page and allows you to view all titles within a specific subject area. When you select a subject, the Browse results page is displayed.

1. The subject carousel appears at subject level and shows new titles in the selected subject area. Use the arrows at the site of the carousel to move through the titles and click a cover to view the book.

2. Access the full title list for the current subject selection – available as both PDF and XLS.

3. View (or remove) current filter selection in UPSO.

4. Use filters in the left panel to narrow your choices further (publication date, sub-disciplines).

5. View the access type for each listed title – an open or closed padlock icon indicated full-text or abstract-only access.
Working with Subject Specializations in the Quick search

The Quick Search box is available on every page. You can pre-filter your search queries by using the "Search my subject specializations" feature. Your selection will remain available to toggle on your searches throughout your session.

1. Click "Search my Subject Specializations" to display the subject menu
2. Check the subjects you require to limit your search
3. Once you’ve made selections you can then use the toggle box to apply or de-select the filter when searching
Advanced Search
Advanced Search is available on every page and allows more powerful and complex searching of the full-text within UPSO.

1. Use the drop down menus to select values for your search criteria
2. Click Add Row and Remove Row to build the search query

Search by entering a word or phrase in the search field. Add new row(s) to include additional words or phrases and refine your search further.

Search:
- Full text
- And Full text

Working with Quick search results

When running a Quick Search or an Advanced Search, you will be presented with a search results page from which you can refine your results further, or save, print, email or share the results list.

1. Search filter listed here, remove filters, or Modify Search, if from an Advanced Search
2. Change the view of information listed in the search result
3. Print, save, email, or bookmark search results
4. Change the number of results per page and the sorting options
5. Filter the results further, using options in the left panel
6. Search within results
Linking from course packs and reading lists
To add a chapter to an online course pack or reading list, COPY and PASTE the DOI to the end of the standard URL prefix. E.g. http://dx.doi.org/10.1093/acprof:oso/9780199580781.001.0001

1. Students who click on this URL will be taken straight to this chapter/book
2. DOIs are unique and permanent so you don’t need to worry about broken links
Sharing information with colleagues
You can share book, chapters and search results with your colleagues in a number of ways: printing, emailing, social bookmarking (e.g. on Twitter or Facebook), posting DOIs, and citing the source in your research papers.

1. At the book, chapter, and search/browse results page, you will have access to the tools toolbar
2. Click on an option to reveal more options or launch a function (print/email window, citation export window)
3. Use the DOI to link to online course packs
Saving links with your personalisation options

UPSO has personalisation features that can be accessed via a free account. These allow you to save links to commonly used books, chapters, and search results.

1. Sign in or sign up for a free account through the links on the top toolbar
2. Once signed in, you have access to My Work
3. View recent activity on the Most Recent tab
4. View links to saved chapters and books on My Content tab
5. View links to saved searches on My Searches tab
6. Change your account password in My Account tab
7. Quickly access saved links from the My Content and My Searches drop down menus
Citing a book in UPSO
UPSO can export citations to EndNote™, ReferenceManager™, ProCite™, RefWorks™, Zotero™, and BibTeX™

1. Click on the pencil icon in the toolbar to launch the Citation Export window
2. Select the required export Format from the drop down list and click Export
3. You can also preview and copy and paste from selected formats
Logging in with remote access
In the UK and some other territories, you can log in to UPSO with an ATHENS or Shibboleth username and password. Alternatively, you can access UPSO from your institution’s library home page.

1. Log in from the UPSO Homepage
2. Enter your ATHENS/Shibboleth credentials when prompted
